Dear _____,

Engagement letter: annual accounts and tax return

This agreement sets out the terms on which we will provide bookkeeping review, annual accounts and personal tax return preparation to you. Please read it carefully; it is a binding contract once both parties have signed.

Each party will keep the other party's confidential information confidential, use it only for the purpose of this agreement, and return or destroy it on request, except where the law requires otherwise.

Our liability for any claim arising from this agreement is limited to the fees paid in the twelve months before the claim, except for fraud or any liability that cannot lawfully be limited.

Either party may end this agreement by giving thirty days' written notice. Fees for work done up to the end date remain payable.

1. Our responsibilities

We will prepare your accounts from the records and explanations you give us. We will not audit them. We will tell you about any matter that comes to our attention which we think you should know about.

2. Your responsibilities

You are responsible for keeping proper records and for giving us complete and accurate information on time. You remain legally responsible for your tax return even though we prepare it.

3. Fees

Our fee for the work described is a fixed fee as set out in the schedule, payable within fourteen days of our invoice. Additional work will be agreed with you in writing before it starts.

Each party will keep the other party's confidential information confidential, use it only for the purpose of this agreement, and return or destroy it on request, except where the law requires otherwise.

Our liability for any claim arising from this agreement is limited to the fees paid in the twelve months before the claim, except for fraud or any liability that cannot lawfully be limited.

Either party may end this agreement by giving thirty days' written notice. Fees for work done up to the end date remain payable.
