Dear _____:

We are pleased to confirm our understanding of the services we will provide _____ ("you" or "the Company") for the year ending December 31, 2026. We will review the Company's financial statements, which comprise the balance sheet and the related statements of income, changes in equity and cash flows, and the related notes, and issue a written report on them.

Our Responsibilities. The objective of a review is to obtain limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, and we will not express an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. We will conduct our review in accordance with the Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services, which require us to apply analytical procedures and make inquiries of management.

Your Responsibilities. You are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements, for designing and maintaining internal control relevant to their preparation, for preventing and detecting fraud, and for identifying and complying with the laws and regulations that apply to your activities. You agree to give us all records, documentation and information we request, unrestricted access to the people we need to speak with, and, at the end of the engagement, a letter confirming certain representations made during the review.

Nonattest Services. We will also prepare the Company's federal and state income tax returns for the same year. You agree to assume all management responsibilities for these services, to oversee them through an individual with suitable skill and knowledge, and to evaluate and accept responsibility for their results.

Fees. Our fee for these services will be $_____, plus out-of-pocket costs such as report production, delivery and technology charges. Our invoices are due on presentation. If your records need significant adjustment, or if we meet unexpected circumstances, we will tell you before incurring additional time and agree a revised fee with you.

Records and Retention. Your original records remain your property and will be returned to you at the end of the engagement. Our working papers are our property and are kept for seven years, after which they may be destroyed without further notice to you. Copies of our working papers may be provided to regulators when required by law or professional standards.

Electronic Communication. We may communicate with you and transfer files by email and through our client portal. Although we use reasonable security measures, we cannot guarantee that electronic communications will be free of interception, and you agree that we are not responsible for losses caused by such interception that were not the result of our negligence.

Dispute Resolution. If a dispute arises out of this engagement, both parties agree first to try to resolve it through non-binding mediation administered by a mutually agreed mediator, with the costs shared equally, before either party starts litigation.

We appreciate the opportunity to be of service to you. If this letter correctly expresses your understanding, please sign the enclosed copy where indicated and return it to us.

Sincerely,

Wexley & Brandt CPAs, LLP
